AN EXPLOSION.

Two Engineers, One Fireman and a Conductor Killed.

Several Other Railroad Employees Injured—Engineer Cowley Hurled Against Rocks and Every Bone In His Body Broken—The Engine a Wreck.

READING, Pa., Nov. 13.—A frightful boiler explosion occurred on the Reading road a short distance above Schenley, killing Hayen, about midnight Sunday night.

Five men were killed and several injured. The killed were: Engineer Win. Cowley and his fireman, Wm. Moyer; Engineer Hurrisson Allison, Conductor Kendleick, and another man whose name has not been learned.

Michael Dubbins, a brakeman, was badly injured. The engine had just finished making a shift and coupl'd up to a train. The moment the steam was applied the explosion followed.

Cowley was buried against rocks, and every bone in his body was crushed. He was hurried to the hospital into a field. The others lay near the wreck.

The engine was No. 503 and belonged to the freight trade. On Sunday she was put in the coal trade, and at the time of the accident was on her way to Palo Alto. The locomotive is a complete wreck.

Cowley and Moyer belonged to another crew, and were dead-heading it home to Palo Alto. The others belonged to the engine which exploded.

AN AWFUL CRIME.

The Murder, Kidnapping and Robbery of Rich Farmer Swarthout Credit to His Two Sons.

MORRISON, Ill., Nov. 13.—The murder and kidnapping of Mr. Swarthout, a wealthy farmer, has created great excitement throughout the country. Sunday Swarthout's two sons were arrested for the crime, and it is feared that they will be lynched.

The German population, notwithstanding an excess of 200,000, a year has increased 25 percent, within the last twenty years. Of the 25,000,000 males listed in 51,000,000 inhabitants, about 8,750,000 being between 20 and 35 years of age, are liable to serve when called out. Under the new bill rather more than 800,000 men are to be kept constantly under arms, all idle-labeled men being now for the first time placed in the ranks. This will cause the cancellation of 100,000 exemptions hitherto annually granted for reasons of economy. If this is a fair tax to bear in times of peace, the burden will be incomparably augmented in war, when an annual recruitment of 250,000 men liable to serve twenty-four years in line and reserve, the army, and allowing no demobilization, would be equivalent to 100,000 men of all ages listed in the prime of life.

The present figure of 4,000,000 was considered the norm of military effort compatible with the contingencies of life; the future total suggests no longer an army, but an armed nation, on the pattern of the ancient Teutonic tribes when on the war-path. What was natural enough two thousand years ago is the reverse in these modern times; what was a spontaneous effort on the part of primitive tribes, repelling, in dealing and revenging death, is left an accused infliction upon a pacific race bent upon defense only, and threatened by French vanity and Russian savagery, nevertheless. Looking upon things from a purely arithmetical point of view, and drawing inevitable conclusions therefrom, it is hardly to be wondered that the leading military writers of Great Britain should just have concluded to pile volume on the chances of what they represent as "the immediate impending war."

GERMAN ARMY BILL.

More Than Six Hundred Thousand Men Constantly Under Arms.

Under the Law, in Time of War, the Military Strength Would Be Six Million—Germany's Treacherous Debt-Increased Population.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 12.—The leaders of the strikers have compromised with the various organizations and committees and the strike is virtually over.

There is intense indignation among a large number of workingmen over the manner in which the strike was settled, and the committee of five representing the interests of the laborers are openly denounced and charged with treachery. A thousand men were crowded into Exchange Alley Friday morning.

They included whites and blacks and represented many who had been brought to New Orleans from other states. They have been out for nearly three weeks and their families are in want. The leaders, they said, had sold them out and had surrendered every point that had been contended for.

The street car companies have about broken up the car drivers' union, and the contract that was broken will undoubtedly remain. The companies will now employ union and non-union men indiscriminately. All the ring-leaders on the street car lines have been discharged, and the unions are so badly disorganized that the can do nothing in the matter.

STRIKE ENDED.

Indignation Among New Orleans Workingmen

Over the Manor in Which the Strike Was Settled—The Committee Representing the Interests of the Laborers Utterly Peured-Treacherous Charged.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 12.—What will my wife say when she hears it? What will my friends think of me?" despondently said a jauntily dressed young man who stood twisting a gold-headed cane in Chief Detective Owens' private office, Friday afternoon. He was unattractive personified, and a shudder of horror came upon him as he was ushered into the gloomy "bull pen" at the jail on the charge of obtaining money by false pretenses.

The man, Clifton E. Hupp, of Columbus, O., and his legalities to be palatable and sole proprietor of the "Perfection" mail box. He has been working through all the cities and towns of Ohio, according to his own statement, and in his pocket were found letters, bills, pawn tickets and other papers from over twenty cities in that state. He is a Mason and Knight of Pythias. His business is to establish agents for the Perfection Mail Box Co., and he has evidently had wonderful success in securing agents. The detective believes he is a shrewd crook, and this seems to be in part substantiated by the causes which led to his arrest.

Hupp came here from Cincinnati, and took rooms at the Waverly. He advertised in the papers for agents. Many applicants went to him, and with a large number of men he drew up contracts for the sole agency of Louisville. Among the number were Shorley Mitchell and G. G. Lewis, who chanced to be friends. They compared contracts, and found that both had the exclusive agency here. For the privilege they had paid $5 each, and upon investigation it was found that another was also Louisville's exclusive agent. Mitchell was arrested for Hupp's most recent charge of obtainment by false pretenses. He was at once arrested by Detective McCormick. If Hupp is a fraud, he has worked the state of Ohio for thousands of dollars, for large numbers of receipts for "exclusive agencies" were found in his pockets, several of them being for $500. Hupp was married in 1891 at Somerset, O., and his wife is now in Columbus, O.

NO. 1 BATTLESHIP.

We Will Not Be a Speedy Vessel, But Very Strong.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The expert engineers of the Bureau of steam engineering have just completed the revised specifications for the engines and boilers of the sea-going Battleship No. 1, which will be the largest vessel in the United States navy. The vessel will displace 11,200 tons, and will not be a lumbering, speedy craft as vessels now being rated in these days of naval progress. But that is because she is to be heavily armored; not "protected." Like the New York in certain vital parts, but covered with heavy armor-plated steel plates capable of resisting the armor-piercing projectiles of great guns. The great weight of this armor has obliged the naval architects to reduce the weight allowance of the engines and boilers, and that means a reduction in speed, particularly as a liberal allowance had to be made for the coal supply of the ocean going man-of-war. So the new vessel will have engines of 11,000 horse power, which, running at 112½ revolutions per minute, will give her a speed of sixteen knots per hour. They will be triple expansion engines, which means that the steam will be used three times in as many different cylinders before being condensed. Three double ended main and two single ended auxiliary steel boilers will supply the steam at 600 pounds pressure to drive these engines and to make a sufficient draught the two smokestacks will be made 100 feet in height. These tall stacks are not acceptable to the admiralty, however, as they are very unsightly and cumbrous to the engineers to get along in ordinary cruising without the annoying "forced draught" which makes so much trouble. The details of the complicated machinery are so many that it requires a book of ninety-four platted pages to describe all of them.

THE TROUBLE BEGINS.

The Single Taxers Already Hot After the Democrats.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 12.—The Chicago Single tax club has adopted the following resolution:

"Whereas, The national democratic platform denounces protection as a fraud and a robbery and declares it to be unconstitutional, and with these declarations submitted the matter to the people; therefore,

"Resolved, That the tidal wave which swept the country last Tuesday was a righteous judgment of protection."

"Resolved, That we denounce as false to the pledges of the democratic party and laudable to its continued success every utterance on the part of its accredited leaders which tends to justify perpetuation of any vestige of the protective system."

"Resolved, Labor has demanded justice when monopolists seek protection they should ask it by its right name, and at the place provided for the needy, and not strive to turn the national government into a gigantic pauper institution."

McPherson for a Cabinet Position.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 13.—An official return from 53 counties in the state give the total people's party vote as 20,243 and the prohibitionists 11,027. The remaining seven counties will not materially increase these totals. In 1888 the populists polled 17,107 for secretary of state and the prohibitionists 12,000. The official returns verify the report previously sent out that the democratic party, in John H. McPherson, as their candidate, will have the largest assembly of votes in the state. In the same the vote will stand 23 to 13, and in the house 63 to 37 on party questions. The returns from all the counties in the state show a democratic plurality of 8,048. It is believed the official count in this election is therefore sufficient to wiped out the plurality of four years ago and give a democratic plurality of 7,723.

This computation does not include returns from the four counties of Marion, Warren, Franklin and Crawford. These estimates on the four lacking counties are believed to be substantially correct: Marion, 1,000 democratic; Crawford, 230 democrats; Warren, 800 republican; and Franklin, 75 republicans. The democratic preponderance in these four counties is 23%. This gives a total democratic plurality in Indiana of 8,048. It is believed the official count in this election is therefore sufficient to wipe out the plurality of four years ago and give a democratic plurality of 7,723.

One of the Most Important Things to Be Considered Will be the Question of Restricting Immigration—it Will Be Opposed by the Knights.

Sr. Louis, Nov. 13.—The general assembly, K. of L., meets at Workmen's Hall in annual convention Tuesday morning. Only a minority of the members have as yet arrived. John Feilvin, of the executive board, said Monday that among the most important things to be considered by the convention will be the question of restricting immigration. "I presume," he said, "that if anything is decided upon, it will be in the form of resolutions declaring against unrestricted immigration, and making opposition to it one of the principles of the order. The K. of L. every where will agitate the subject, and endeavor to create popular sentiment. That is about all we can do at first, but it may lead to national legislation to keep out the pauper classes of Europe."

Speaking of the report that Mr. Powderly intends to resign as grand master-workman, General Worthy Foreman Hugh Cavanaugh stated Monday night that, as his term of office had not expired, he could not resign. As to a refusal to serve again in the same capacity, Mr. Cavanaugh and other officials who are in the city desire there to be no ground for believing he will take such action.

A call will be issued very soon for a meeting of the house committee on appropriations at noon on Monday (November 20) next. This will give the committee about a week's time in which to prepare some of the regular annual appropriation bills for the action of congress when it meets for the second session.

HARRISON'S DEFEAT.

The President Did Not Favor a High Tariff Policy.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—President Harrison, discussing the defeat of the republicans, says: "It was due mainly to the position of the party on the tariff question. The republicans had forced this issue to an extreme, which evidently did not meet with the approval of the people."

"There was a strong belief that the Force bill issue kept the solid south within the old lines, but it did more than that, for it brought to the support of the democratic ticket many votes in the north."

General Master Workman Powderly

reached the city late yesterday evening. He refused to talk with the reporter of the Associated Press regarding the report that he intended not to accept another term of his present office. General Secretary Hayes, however, said to the reporter: "I have talked with Mr. Powderly, and he assures me he will not leave us, and that all reports to the contrary are untrue."

SMUGGLED WATCHES.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Among the passengers who landed here last evening from the steamer La Bourgogne from Havre, was a well-built, broad-shouldered man in fashionable attire, whose particularly upright bearing attracted the attention of Special Customs Inspectors Brown and Donovan. On examining him more closely Inspector Donovan noticed something larger than a button bulging out at the back of his slightly fitting fall overcoat. He was taken into the examination room, and despite his indignant protest was obliged to remove his clothing. Then it was found that he wore about his body something that was a cross between a waistcoat and a corset. In it were concealed six valuable gold watches. The watches were seized, and the man was locked up in the Falstaff street jail. His name is Louis Marie, and he is a resident of some town in Washington, where, it is believed, he keeps a jewelry store. The watches found on him are valued at $13,000.

The prisoner, when arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Shields, said that his name was Louis Marbet, and that he was a baker, and had lived for several years in Seattle. He went to Switzerland in July last, and bought the watches there, for $300. He was held for examination in default of $2,000 bail.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1892.

Ohio tried mighty hard to get on the popular side in the late election.

The Vanceburg Sun is preparing to replace its hand press with a power press.

The result in Ohio is still in doubt, but the state is probably Republican by a few hundred.

The plurality for the Democratic Presidential ticket in Illinois is 27,057, while the plurality for All-gold for Governor is only 21,827.

It is computed that there are 70,250 more words in the English language than in the German, French and Italian languages combined.

The reported "apathy" of the late campaign was explained when the ballots came in. It was a reluctance to affiliate with the Republican party.

The Maysville Ledger refers to the recent election as "the late unpleasantries." The Ledger's political complexion is evident to even a stranger.

The News said ten months ago that it "would rather see Grover Cleveland President of the United States than any man living," and we are therefore happy.

The Democrats will have a majority in the United States Senate at the next session and will carry out their promises of reform. No extreme measures, such as free trade, will be adopted, but a conservative course in everything will be pursued.

In the results of the election expect the claims of a political leader for his own party. It was the case, however, with Richard Croker, the Tammany Chieftain, who promised a Democratic plurality of 75,000 in New York City and gave 76,100.

A press dispatch mentions the peculiar care of Judge Lane, of Cass county, Mo. The Judge was serving a sentence in jail for contempt of the United States Court in refusing to issue a special tax levy, but was elected to the Legislature by the largest majority ever given in the county.

It is reported that President Harrison has talked freely about the defeat of his party last Tuesday, attributing it mainly to its position on the tariff question. However, he thinks the Force bill had much weight, and says that Carter's "rainbow chasing" and mismanagement also had a great deal to do with it.

At a meeting of the World's Fair Directors a resolution was adopted favoring the opening of the World's Fair on Sundays. The Directors express the opinion that as the people of all nations have been invited to attend the Fair it would be highly disconcerting and inhospitable to inform them that they can not do on Sunday here what they would do were they at home.—C.J.

The result of Tuesday's election cannot be set down to brag or baffle. The people struck against centralization of capital. They saw the growth of moneyed aristocracy and felt that its power would prove more despotic than transatlantic monarchy. They saw everything combining into trusts and syndicates. They saw such patriotic leaders as MacVeagh, Gresham, Low, Cleary, Ren and Cox changing front, and it emboldened the otherwise timid to leap the fold of Party.—Cincinnati Post.

For the splendid increase in the Democratic majority in Kentucky the Democrats of the State owe much to the energy, zeal and good management of John D. Carroll, of the State Central Committee. Mr. Carroll gave a great deal of time and labor to the important business of looking after the party's organization and furnishing speakers. He left no county unsupplied with convincing oratory. There was more political speaking than in any campaign for years.—Courier Journal.

We beg leave to correct the above in just one particular. Lawrence county was not supplied with any oratory through the State committee. The only good speaking we had from any one not a native of the county was from Hon. T. H. Yuter; then the County Committee got in their work, and the result is best told by the figures for the Cleveland electors, which for Harrison in 1888, only ticket and Measures, and Hazlegrave received

A Beautiful Sunset.

Already the Republicans are quarreling among themselves as to the future policy of the party. Shall they persist in a tariff policy which the people have twice condemned at the polls, or shall they abandon the only doctrine which has held them together, throw every pretense of principle, good and bad alike, to the winds, and go in for the offices, and any way to get them.

It really makes little difference which course they decide upon. The hole in the hull is too big for them to tack about, and the rocks are too close ahead for them to keep on. It is sink or swim, with the chances largely in favor of sinking. They are between the money devil and the protected iron works.

They are afraid to go ahead, for that way stand the people. They are afraid to go back, for behind them are the richer barons, demanding the delivery of the legislative protection for which they have paid, and paid liberally.

It is folly to fly in the face of the people by persisting in a policy which they have twice condemned at the polls in tones that would penetrate the dullest ear.

Death of Laban T. Moore.
The death of Col. Laban T. Moore, which took place at his home in Catlettsburg, Ky., Thursday morning, takes from the state one of her purest and best citizens. As soldier, jurist, legislator and citizen, his name is without a blemish and his fame without a cloud. He was about sixty-six years of age, and leaves a wife and five daughters, no noble women ever having brightened the home of any man. His domestic life was a poem of peace and happiness. Never an impatient word was spoken there, never a selfish thought, never a disagreeable action. All was serene and frank and affectionate. Such was the man, and such his fortunate children. There is a loss in such a home which could be given freely to the world, would brighten and bless the earth in its fruitful gladness.

The cause of his death was heart trouble, an ailment with which he has at times suffered for several years. He leaves a small estate, but a rich legacy to his children in a spotless name and a noble nature.

He was a distinguished lawyer and one of the most highly esteemed men of the State. He was an ex-congressman, ex-State Senator and one of the leading spirits of the late Constitutional Convention.

Hon. Laban T. Moore was born Jan. 13, 1826, in Cabell county Va., and was of German parentage. After completing his education, which was obtained chiefly at McLean College, he began to practice law, and was located for a time at Mt. Sterling, Ky. The afterward moved to Louisa, Lawrence county, and while there was the Whig candidate in 1859 for Congressman in that district. He was elected, and it was during this time that he delivered his celebrated speech on "An Undivided Country." At the expiration of his term he was offered the renomination, but declined the honor.

"At the beginning of the war he raised and became Colonel of the Fourteenth Kentucky United States Infantry, for many years resided in Catlettsburg, but his family—a widow, and his fame as an orator, have made his name familiar all over the country. In 1850 Col. Moore was married to Miss Sarah Everett, a daughter of Col. John Everett, of Virginia.—Lexington Observer.

Official Count.

The official count of the results of last week's election showed the following majorities, all Democratic: Delegates Electors, 284; Halderman, Apothecary Judge, 104; A. J. Wilson, Sheriff, 315; Al. Carter, Clerk, 257; Fannin, Commissioner, 250. Fannin received 1747 votes, Kinner 1720 and Gedwine 1715. The total number of ballots cast in the county was 318.

Amos Shinkle Dead.

Amos Shindle, the millionaire philanthropist of Covington, well known here through his liberality to the M. E. Church at this place, died suddenly at his home last Sunday. He was seventy-four years old and had celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his marriage only three days before his death. He was worth $2,500,000, every cent of which he had accumulated himself. His donations amounted annually to $30,000. He leaves a wife and one son.

Important Arrest.

Wm. Wilkinson, a representative of the Grinnan Detective Agency of Cincinnati, arrested John C. Tipton on Hewitt creek, in Logan county, W. Va., a few days ago on the charge of killing two men, stealing two mules and forging an order for $50, at Jonesboro, Tenn. A guard was shot in the foot while making the arrest. Tipton was acting in the capacity of a Baptist preacher at the time he was arrested, and it is reported that he turned the tables on the detectives by having them jailed for disturbing the pews. He is a bad man, a cousin of Talton Hall, and does not deny he has been acquitted for them. He also admits having killed five other men, but declares he was acquitted in each instance.

A modest, but very worthy Louisa complemented their fortunes and futures Wednesday at noon. The parties were Mr. T. S. McChane and Miss Mary B. Davis, and they were married at the residence of the bride's mother, by Rev. A. S. Fox. A very limited number of guests witnessed the happy event. Mr. and Mrs. McChane left on the four o'clock train for Cincinnati, where they will stop a few days, after which they will extend their trip to Chicago or the East.

The bride is an estimable and popular young lady of culture and refinement and possesses the qualities of mind and heart which go to make up the desirable companion and helpmate. The groom stands high in the estimation of all who know him, being a gentleman of strictest integrity, model habits and pleasant manner.

The marriage is undoubtedly a congenial union and one which promises much happiness. That these promises may be verified and that prosperity may ever attend them is the wish of the News.

We are glad to see the Louisa Roller Mills running steadily, notwithstanding that no effort to push the business is now being made.

They make a high grade of flour which they find no difficulty in placing upon the market. The experience of the past, which has required a run of 144 hours every week, proves the advantages of this place as a milling point and the popularity of the product of the Louisa Roller Mills. It is said that the business will be placed upon a larger scale soon and the mill run to its utmost capacity. They will have no difficulty in controlling as much business as they can handle in the Sandy valley.

LITTLE BLAINE.

"Tis all "democratic, tra la, tra la la. Not only Little Blaine; but the Universe. Hurrah for the democratic North, the Solid South, Grover Cleveland, and Jack Wilson. Your tariff message beat '88 but elected you in '92. Give us another, give us complete reform, and when we have enjoyed common comforts of life for three years without paying two taxes, we can elect a democratic resident without debate."

Lawrence is in line with the rest, her line added to the solid

New York and Indiana went democratic because democracy is right and should rule.

The other northern and western states emphasized the demand to turn the rascals out.

Before the election I predicted the largest democratic majority that had been given in the county for years and gave my reasons for it, my prediction is verified. Allow me to predict again—Jack Wilson will be our next county Judge.

Salt River Heard From. We reached Protection Island Saturday at sun down. As we had not been jeered from the bank in the past two days, Majah said he thought we were out of democratic reach.

The Bennie is commanded by Albrecht, with Doc Rokartaris of Hood at the helm, Jon Wilson, mate, Jeems Berri, Chaplin, Kruks, and Majah were not given official places owing to their inclination to retire from public life.

Travel has been slow since the 8th. The Bennie had been running by gas since June 6th but at the above date that "article" gave out and it has since been impelled by oars aided by some pine poles which had done flag service in Louis and vicinity. As the sun sank we pushed ashore and made an attempt to tie a tree on the bank.

As the cable would not reach the boys had to take turns holding. We floated on crow and salt river turtle, soup flavored with sad recollections of Harrison. Myt said every time he looked in the soup he could see Harrison, but others recognized McKinley. At this juncture Majah, who had been holding the cable, came in to warn his hands and was called on for a speech.

He responded as follows: Gentlemen: "While I've been holding the greatest thoughts of my life passed through my mind. That rope is characteristic of the republican party at present, to short in everything it reaches for. The McKinley tariff is short of what the people want and need. Protection is a humbug. While out in the chilly air I pictured myself as an overtaxed farmer standing there with blue pants reaching half way between my knees and ankles, with red socks not reaching the pants and my legs freezing. It plainly came to me that it was caused by an unjust tax. I thought of the 60% tax on the poor man's clothing and no longer wondered that we are up salt river. I've given up all hope of—here Kruks and Harre case and whispered something and handed him a paper. Chiliz said it reminded him of Kruks, speech at Hood. Majah Reids: we should not give up! This is an off year! Protection has failed but reciprocity will win. (Cheers) The chaplain pronounced the following Benny Diction. "May the blessings of the great spirit rest upon this office beaten crew! May it keep away the dreams of office and rest and abide with all deluded republicans from Salt River to East Rock Ah, Ah! (or, amen, I Lysere, Sec.)

BLAINE.

"Glory to God, peace on earth and good will toward all men." Hon. H. H. Gambill, A. and son-month and a half saying: "I'd rather go than to Heaven with you Democrats."

We overheard one, Dock, offering up his prayer in behalf of his people, as he is their speaker and intercessor. It was as follows: "Oh! Father Blaine, you lives in Maine, we come before thee now with a contrite heart saying, thy will be done. Thou oh! Blaine hast said in thy good word, 'oh! Mr. Kinley, your bill has swiped us out with the north, and the Force Bill in the south.' So, Blaine, what shall we next do? Thou knowest we are sorry from the deepest recesses of our hearts about our brother's defeat, but thou knowest father, we did all we could."

Died, Nov. 18th, 1892, at her home near Vandover, Mrs. Robert Copley (nee Emma Wilson). She was sick only three weeks of typhoid fever. "All of this county has gone for Baed and John Wilson; also, New York, Indiana, Illinois and Ohio for Harrison. At that announcement Hon. H. H. Gambill, Jas. Holton and G. M. Elam pulled off their fine hats, threw them against the floor and screamed like boys were cocks of the walk. After the excitement was over, Gambill examined the mail and found a letter from Chiliz saying that Cleveland and all the Democratic ticket is elected. Gambill said, boys, let's don't holler too soon. I'm not going to holler till I hear straighter news.

A KENTUCKY STORY.

"I never knew," said Governor John Young Brown of Kentucky, "what Dudley Warner meant when he wrote about a Kentuckian 'falling out of his own corn-field,' until I visited the mountains of my native State last year. At the time I was making a political canvass of the eastern part of Kentucky, and one day in the mountains I overheard a mountaineer sympathizing with a neighbor that had lost a dear relative who came to his death by falling out of his own corn-field. This interested me, and I visited the spot where this supposed miracle occurred. The corn-field was upon the brow of a cliff, and the farmer had fallen 200 feet. In those mountains there are dozens of such places."
